Children Who Witness Abuse (CWWA)

Our counsellors offer education in a group format, to children who have experienced conflict in their families. Even when children are the indirect victims of abuse, it can have a negative impact on their lives. Parents often think that because the children aren't present, they don't know or that "babies" are too young to understand.

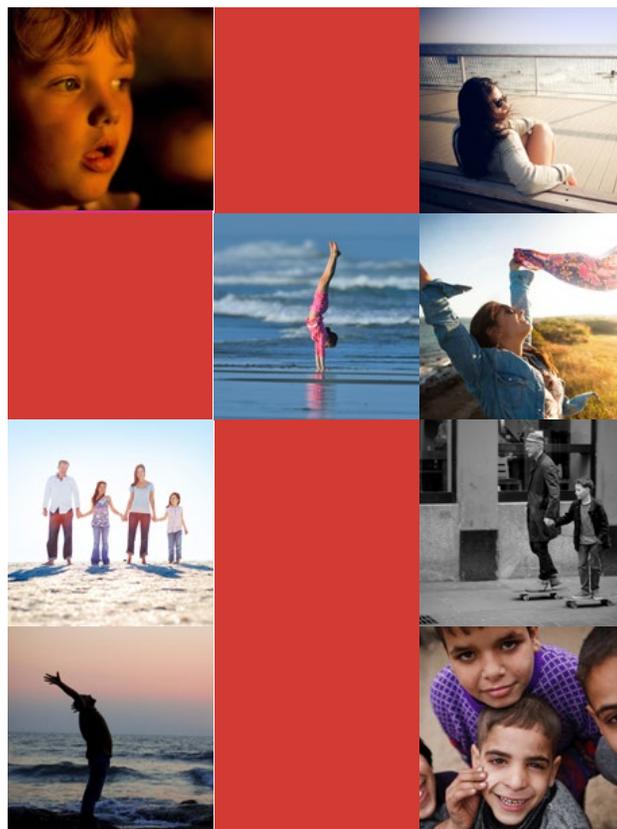

Seeing or hearing parents fight, things being broken, or their mother being hit is terribly damaging to children's sense of safety and well-being.

The objectives of the CWWA program are to let children know:

- It's not your fault
- You are not alone
- You can get help

Weekly meetings provide a safe environment for children to learn about:

- Feelings; what they are and how to express them
- Self-esteem
- Families and how they change (dealing with loss)
- Safety plan: How to get help and protect themselves
- Various types of abuse
- Anger
- Learn about choices
- Personal power
- Resolving conflict
